

2021 CERTIFIED CROP ADVISER PHOTO CONTEST

Calling all CCAs! Show us what you do.

Submissions

Submissions will be accepted November 1-30, 2021. Winners will be announced in December.

Contest Entry

The CCA Photo Contest is open to any amateur photographer who is a Certified Crop Adviser (CCA) in the state of Missouri. Photographers may submit up to three entries per category and the photos must show some aspect of activities completed and/or landscapes viewed by CCAs in Missouri.

Categories

- Life as a CCA – Certified Crop Advisors complete a variety of tasks on a daily basis leading to a unique and interesting experience. A typical day could include taking soil or tissue samples, applying fertilizer and/or pesticide, consulting with customers, assisting customers with decisions to improve soil health, etc. Photographs in this category will help members of the agriculture community and the general public know what CCAs do and the value they add.
- Sales and Service – A major part of a CCAs role involves sales and service to producer customers. This includes the application of nutrients/fungicides/pesticides, hosting field days, seed sales, crop scouting, and more. This category includes photos of the services and products involved in advising producers as a CCA.
- Crops and Beautiful Landscape – Missouri's agriculture industry has some of the most beautiful views in the state. Seeing growing crops, scenic country sides, and incredible sunsets are one of the benefits of working as a CCA. Enter photographs showing the scenic views of Missouri agriculture illustrating the scenes of agriculture retail, Missouri farms, and/or agriculture.
- Nature and Conservation – It has been said that agriculturalists are first conservationists. Being a steward of natural resources is essential in agriculture because without these resources all efforts will be unsuccessful. Photos in this category represent beautiful scenes in nature and/or agriculture's involvement in conserving natural resources.

Prizes

Winners will be presented with a $50 Bass Pro Gift Card for each category.
